Here at The Old Rectory we serve breakfast until 10am, or in bed until midday. We offer a full english breakfast, kippers, smoked salmon, or just toast and cereal. Our food is sourced from our own garden or local suppliers.

Guests have their own Sitting Room which they are welcome to relax in throughout the day. This includes its own television, tea and coffee making facilities and a fridge where guests can find fresh milk and store drinks.

Enjoy our beautiful mature south facing garden, which extends to 3 acres and contain a wide variety of plants.

Visit Hardy's Seat - a place as peaceful today as when Thomas Hardy and Emma Gifford sat here over 100 years ago. Their romance led to a novel and some of his finest poetry.

Explore the walled kitchen garden where we grow our fruit and vegetables and see our free range hens.

Emma's Room

Romantic four-poster bed with large en-suite shower and original 'thunder box'. Views of lower garden and croquet lawn.

The Rector's Room
